PUBLIC REPORT
—OF A—
POLICEMAN.

I have not enjoyed good health for several years past, yet have not allowed it to interfere with my labor. Every one belonging to the laboring class knows the inconvenience of being obliged to labor when the body, from debility, almost refuses to perform its daily task. I never was a believer in dosing with medicines; but having heard the VEGETINE spoken of so highly, was determined to try it, and shall never regret that determination. As a tonic (which every one needs at some time) it surpasses anything I ever heard of. It invigorates the whole system; it is a great cleanser and purifier of the blood. There are many of my acquaintances who have taken it, and all unite in praise of its satisfactory effect.

Especially among the aged class of people, it imparts to them the one thing most needful in old age—nights of calm, sweet repose, thereby strengthening the mind as well as the body. One aged lady, who has been suffering through life from scrofula, and has become blind from its effects, having tried many remedies with no favorable result, was induced by friends to try the VEGETINE. After taking a few bottles, she obtained such great relief that she expressed a wish for her sight, that she might be able to look upon the man who had sent for such a blessing.

Yours Respectfully,
O. P. H. HODGE, Police Officer, Station 6
BOSTON, Mass., May, 9, 1871.

HEARTFELT PRAYER.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 22, 1868

H. R. STEVENS, Esq:

Dear Sir—I should be wanting in gratitude, if I failed to acknowledge what the VEGETINE has done for me. I was attacked about eleven months since with Bronchitis, which settled into Consumption. I had night sweats and fever chills; was distressed for breath, and frequently spit blood; was all emaciated, very weak, and so low that my friends thought my case hopeless.

I was advised to make a trial of the VEGETINE, which, under the providence of God, has cured me. That he may bless the use of your medicine to others, as he has to me, and that his divine grace may attend you, is the heartfelt prayer of your admiring, humble servant.

BENJAMIN PETTINGILL.

P. S.—Mine is but one among the many cures your medicine has effected in this place. H. P.

MAKE IT PUBLIC.

SOUTH BOSTON, Feb. 9, 1871.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.

Dear Sir—I have heard from very many sources of the great success of VEGETINE in cases of Scrofula, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, Catarrh, and other diseases of kindred nature. I make no hesitation in saying that I know VEGETINE to be the most reliable remedy for Catarrh and General Debility.

My wife has been troubled with Catarrh for many years, and at times very badly. She has thoroughly tried every supposed remedy that we could hear of, and with all this she has for several years been gradually growing worse, and the discharge from the head was excessive and very offensive.

She was in this condition when she commenced to take VEGETINE; I could see that she was improving on the second bottle. She continued taking the VEGETINE until she had used from twelve to fifteen bottles. I am now happy in informing you and the public (if you choose to make it public) that she is entirely cured, and VEGETINE accomplished the cure after nothing else would. Hence I feel justified in saying that VEGETINE is the most reliable remedy, and would advise all suffering humanity to try it, for I believe it to be a good, honest, vegetable medicine, and I shall not hesitate to recommend it. I am, &c., respectfully, L. C. CARELL, Store 451 Broadway.

VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cleanses and cures ulceration, cures constipation, and regulates the bowels.

Has Entirely Cured Me.

BOSTON, October, 1870.

MR. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—My daughter, after having a severe attack of whooping cough, was left in a feeble state of health. Being advised by a friend she tried the VEGETINE, and after using a few bottles was fully restored to health.

I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism. I have taken several bottles of the VEGETINE, for this complaint, and am happy to say it has entirely cured me. I have recommended the VEGETINE to others, with the same good results. It is a great cleanser and purifier of the blood; it is pleasant to take; and I can cheerfully recommend it.

TO PHYSICIANS AND INVALIDS.

The noiseless, self-applying Electric Blake, Dr. Garratt's invention, make without care or trouble, "gentle and prolonged applications" of very fine primary currents. They prove sufficiently active and durable for this peculiar method.

While worn by night or day for cold rheumatic neuralgia, lameness, weakness, or chronic pains, the disk is sure to generate and apply its constant multipolar electric action. Each metal acts as element and pole. They are wired avoluncha for deep polar inworking. As shown by the expert judges, and in practice, these disks excel all other attempts at this sort of appliance. Nothing like them.

Large disk, $2.50. Children's $1. Other sizes. Also, our new Tantalizing Cheat Protector, 75c., Children's, 50c. Sold by druggists and surgical instrument dealers. Sent by mail on receipt of price, by GARRATT & CO., 5 Hamilton Place, Boston, Mass. jy18

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK.

MEXICO.

THE RIVAL PRESIDENTS.

Diaz Marching Against Iglesias.

60,000 Men Under Arms.

OUTRAGE ON FOREIGNERS.

The Political and Military Situation.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.

A letter from the City of Mexico, 10th inst., says Gen. Diaz occupied the capital to the satisfaction of the majority of its population. Senor Iglesias, ex-Vice President of the republic, has established his seat of government in Guanajuato, under the protection of Governor Antillion of that state. He refuses all compromises with Diaz or a recognition of his plan of Tuxtepec or Palo Blanco, and in consequence an appeal to arms will follow.

During the past week the army of Diaz, intended for the campaign against Iglesias, has been leaving the city in a westerly direction, consisting of infantry and cavalry numbering at least 15,000 men and 80 pieces of artillery. Gen. Diaz will leave tomorrow, perhaps, to take command in person, and, in anticipation of this, has already issued a proclamation leaving meanwhile executive power in the hands of Gen. Mendez.

It is estimated that there are now not far from 60,000 men under arms throughout the country, the greater part of whom are supporting Diaz and Inglesias, the army of the former numbering far the most.

Late unseasonable rain has made the march toward the interior, by Diaz's troops, both difficult and slow, but notwithstanding, a battle at an early day is imminent.

FOREIGNERS KIDNAPPED BY BANDITTI.

A St. Louis dispatch says advices from Chihuahua, Mexico, state that Messrs. Degetan, Miller, Milivan, Heine and Fisher, prominent foreigners residing in that city, while out in the mountains near by, endeavoring to locate a gold mine, were all kidnapped by Mexican banditti, and will be held until ransomed. Degetan is the German consul at Chihuahua, and Miller was a former resident of St. Louis.

FROM WASHINGTON.

RECEPTION OF ELECTORAL VOTES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.

Vice President Ferry, in conversation with a prominent democratic senator, stated that he intended to receive all communications and other documents containing the electoral votes of the several states, and also the messengers carrying electoral votes, including those from contested states, but in the latter case he will refuse to give any receipt to those who bring the legal vote.

Cronin has not yet presented his package containing the electoral vote of Oregon. His friends here advise him to wait the arrival of Governor Grover, who is expected early next week.

Speaker Randall has not yet completed the select committee of seven. It appears there is some difficulty in adjusting the difference between the radical and conservative wings of the democratic party.

WITHOUT A QUORUM.

The Senate adjourned at one o'clock for want of a quorum. There is not a quorum of the House present, and if brought to a test it will be compelled to adjourn also. Speaker Randall desires to hold the House, however, in hopes of being able to announce the committee of seven.

THE RAILROAD SCHEMES.

The railroad lobbyists say that by judicious log-rolling they have organized success. The time for the completion of the Northern Pacific is to be extended, with some homestead concessions. The Central Pacific Company is to build a road from San Francisco to the Colorado river, and the Texas Pacific is to extend its road to the Colorado river.

SOUTHERN WAR CLAIMS.

Congress will soon be called upon to appropriate $474,632 for the payment of Southern war claims allowed during the past year. The amount of claims rejected during the past year has been $3,790,245, and the claimants will doubtless present their little accounts again and again, occasionally worrying one through.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The democrats claim to have information that the result of the investigating committee's work in South Carolina will show that on the face of the returns every Tilden elector has been elected. This is believed to be a piece of impudent assumption.

SENATOR CONKLING.

The democrats persistently represent that Senator Conkling will soon declare that the function of the vice president in counting the electoral votes is merely ministerial, and that he has no judicial power whatever.

CHAMBERLAIN'S PROGRAMME

is said to be to issue a proclamation on Monday for the Hampton House to disband within three days. If his proclamation is not obeyed Chamberlain, it is claimed, will call upon President Grant for troops.

THE LOUISIANA RETURNING BOARD.

The democrats of the house have received information that the Louisiana committee will report the returning board of that state to the house for contempt. The proceedings will probably be sent on by telegraph, and the house will doubtless be called upon to take action tomorrow.

A REPUBLICAN FROM SOUTH CAROLINA TO BE UNSEATED.

The house elections committee has decided to report in favor of seating Battz, the South Carolina republican, but the democrats and republicans of the committee reach this conclusion by different methods. The democrats base their action upon the decision of the state supreme court. The republicans upon the fact that Buttz has a proper certificate. The democrats refuse, however, to permit the reporting of the case at present.

THE MORMON ELDER.

The committee will soon report the case of Mormon Elder Cannon, and probably with favorable recommendation. The argument is that it is a dangerous precedent to declare a man a bigamist when he has not been convicted of crime.

THE SALARY OF THE LATE SPEAKER KERR.

The house unanimously adopted a resolution instructing the committee on appropriations to report as a part of some appropriation bill a provision to pay to the widow of Michael C. Kerr, ex-Speaker, a sum equal to the pay and mileage of the speaker from the date of the death of the late speaker to the end of the present congress.

GERMANY.

CLOSE OF PARLIAMENT.

The Emperor's Speech Hopeful of Peace.

BERLIN, Dec. 22.

The Emperor William closed the session of the German Parliament today with a speech from the throne. His Majesty said in reference to foreign affairs:

The negotiations of the powers upon the Eastern questions, as far as proceeded with, justified the hope that my efforts, and the mutually conciliatory and peaceful intentions of the powers immediately concerned, will be successful in solving the pending questions without prejudice to good relations now existing. Germany will continue, by friendly, disinterested mediation, to lend her co-operation for attainment of this end."

FRANCE.

A CONFLAGRATION IN PARIS.

PARIS, Dec. 21.

A great fire broke out this evening in a large factory on the Rue Martel. Water was scarce and the flames gained great headway, which the firemen were unable to control. The military have been called out to assist them. It is rumored that there has been considerable loss of life. Great excitement prevails.

THE EASTERN COMPLICATIONS.

GENERAL BELIEF THAT THE PROPOSAL WILL BE ACCEPTED.

LONDON, Dec. 23.

The Telegraph's special from Pera says Midhat Pasha, on Thursday, communicated to the Sultan the informal conclusions of the European plenipotentiaries. At this interview it was resolved that Turkey could yield in nothing which would impeach her independence. Special correspondents, however, think Turkey will accept the proposals of the Powers.

The Standard and Times representatives at Pera express themselves strongly of this opinion. The Times dispatch declares that the majority of the Turks seem disposed to be reasonable.

THE PRELIMINARY CONFERENCE TERMINATES HAPPILY.

A dispatch to the Russian Telegraphic Agency says the preliminary conference has terminated happily. The accord of the powers is complete. The disposition of the Porte, however, does not look very favorable. Military preparations continue in Russia.

ILLNESS OF THE SULTAN.

A telegram to the Times from Pera states that the Sultan is ill, and that his indisposition is of a nature to cause uneasiness. He is preparing to go to the neighborhood of Adrianople and remain a month.

AUSTRIA ACCEPTS SERVIA'S APOLOGY.

A Vienna special to the Daily Telegraph reports that Austria has accepted the reparation offered by Servia, and the Hungarian authorities have been directed to use all their influence towards tranquilizing the popular feeling in Hungary.

WASHINGTON SPECIALS.

SENATOR FERRY AND THE VOTE IN THE CONTESTED STATES.

The democratic messenger bearing the pretended democratic electoral vote of Florida, called on Acting Vice President Ferry yesterday, and handed him an envelope containing the so-called electoral vote of the state. On being interrogated, the messenger said there was a contest in the state as to the electoral vote, whereupon Mr. Ferry declined to give any receipt for the package handed him. Mr. Ferry said in the case of the contested states he would not give a receipt or voucher to either of the messengers for the reason that he cannot break the seal of the package to ascertain which are the proper returns, that being a matter which cannot be decided until the second Wednesday in February. There can be but one proper return from any state and that cannot be determined, in case of contest, until the electoral votes are opened in accordance with the constitution. General Dennis, the republican messenger from South Carolina, handed in the vote of that state on Wednesday and admitting there was a contest, no receipt was given him. One reason for the course pursued by Mr. Ferry is made necessary by the fact, that if a receipt was given the first messenger reaching the treasury he would then be enabled to draw his mileage from the treasury, and there is no provision of law whereby two persons, both claiming to be messengers, can be paid.

WHAT MR. CHANDLER SAYS.

Secretary Chandler said today that the republicans believed Hayes to be elected, and would not enter into any compromise. If it is decided that he is not elected, the republicans will acquiesce in the decision, and not resort to a proposition to compromise. It was time the democrats understood this fact.

THE HOUSE MEMBERS OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE ON COUNTING THE VOTES.

Speaker Randall today announced the committee to act with the Senate committee to consider the motion of counting the electoral votes as follows: Messrs. Payne, Hunton, Hewitt, Springer, McCreary, Hoar, Willard of Michigan.

IN THE HOUSE

a number of private bills was disposed of. One providing for the payment to the widow of the late Speaker Kerr of an amount equal to his salary upon the close of this congress was objected to by Mr. Holman unless it could be considered by the appropriation committee. The republicans, however, shamed him into withdrawing his objection, and the bill was then passed.

The greatest man is he who chooses right with the most invincible resolution, who resists the sorest temptation from within and without; who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully; who is the calmest in the storm, and the most fearless under menaces and frowns; whose reliance on truth, on virtue and on God is most unfaltering.

It is very easy to pick holes in other people's work, but it is far more profitable to do better yourself. Is there a fool in all the world that cannot criticise? Those who can themselves do good service are but as one to a thousand compared with those who can see faults in the labors of others.—[Spurgeon.

Alas! it is not till time with reckless hand has torn out half the leaves from the book of human life that man begins to see that the leaven which remain are few in number, and to remember, faintly at first and then more clearly, that upon the early pages of that book was written a story which he would fain read over again.—[Longfellow.

The Methodist people of Boston and its vicinity gave a formal welcome to Bishop Foster Wednesday evening. The demonstration took the form of a public meeting, held in the old Bromfield-street Church. The entire body of the Methodist clergy of the city, and many from the neighborhood, and a large number of the laity were present. The formal exercises were participated in by Rev. W. V. Morrison, presiding elder of the Providence conference, who read the Scriptures, and also by Rev. Mr. Mather of the same conference, who offered prayer. Rev. Mr. Mallalieu then addressed the bishop, and in behalf of the Methodist people, not only of Boston but of New England, bade him welcome to their hearts. The bishop made a feeling response, and at the close of the address, which was listened to with close attention, the formal exercises closed, and everybody present improved the opportunity given to shake hands with the bishop.—[Transcript.

The Chinese Recorder contains interesting information from Japan, especially illustrating the manner in which missionaries are received in that country. The following incident will speak for itself: "The Rev. J. L. Atkinson, of Kobe, lately received an invitation from the residents of a small island not far distant, to come and preach to them; to which he gave a ready consent, and lost no time in applying to the authorities for a passport, which was granted. On reaching the place, he was kindly received by the officials, who informed him of their having received notification from the government of such a pass being granted, and orders to see that he was treated well while on the island. A large room was speedily procured; and Mr. Atkinson had the pleasure of preaching daily to congregations of over six hundred, the largest yet ever collected to hear the gospel from the lips of a foreigner. He returned greatly gratified at what he had seen, and entertains hopes that soon a flourishing church will spring up on the island."

PROOF—20 TO 1.

The sales of Webster's Dictionaries throughout the country in 1875 were 20 times as large as the sales of any other Dictionaries. We will send proof on application, and such sales still continues.

More than TWENTY THOUSAND copies of Webster's Unabridged have been placed in as many Public Schools in the United States, by state enactments or school officers.

Can you better promote the cause of education and the good of community than by having a copy of Webster's Unabridged in your family, and trying to have a copy in each of your schools?

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 13 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies, and at least one good story, the latest markets, and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains more reading matter than any other paper in the southern part of the state.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered for one week or longer Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. No gratuitous advertising for any object.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 25, 1876.

THE DAY.

A Merry Christmas to you all!

There is to be a recount of the Florida vote, by order of the supreme court.

The South Carolina legislature has adjourned and the members have gone to their homes.

During the recent gales on the coast of England it is estimated that 150 persons have lost their lives.

The report that Major Randall and a large company of men have been massacred by the Indians is not credited at headquarters.

There was a large and destructive fire in Portland last night. The Savings Bank, Museum, Masonic Hall and other buildings were wholly or partially destroyed.

The sleighing which was pretty good before will be greatly improved by the fall of snow last night. The indications, are, however, that the riders will enjoy but a short term.

The newspapers have been for some time very free in their comments concerning the engagement of James Gordon Bennett with Miss May. The New York papers now say that the bridal outfit for the lady has been apprised by custom house examiners at 36,000 francs, which is equivalent to about $7,200 in gold. The outfit comprises over forty articles of wear, chief among which is the wedding dress, which is of white satin. The custom duties are $4200.

No paper will be issued from this office on Monday. That is one of the few legal holidays enjoyed by the people of this country, and it is fitting that the day should be generally observed. It should be regarded as the great religious festival in which all believers in our Lord Jesus Christ may join. By common consent the day is observed in commemoration of the advent of the world's great Teacher and Savior, and all believers in him should celebrate the event as the grandest and most far-reaching of any in human history. Laying aside then the cares of business let all the people seek to enjoy a merry Christmas. It is the time in which to be glad and in which a Christian people should especially rejoice.

"Burleigh" writes to the Boston Journal in regard to New York business life as follows:

The change in business life is a marked one. Merchants are moving down town, for rents are low, and the facilities for reaching the rivers are great. Large stores are abandoned, and traders are doubling up. Men do business with desk room instead of a store. Economy is the order of the day. For some time merchants have lived over their stores. These men live in a comfortable and a genteel style. It is quite a modern thing for lawyers to live in chambers, after the London style. One of our leading councilors has a suite of rooms in a large building down town in the fifth story. The access is by an elevator. Four or five rooms open one into another. One of the rooms is a bedroom fitted up in handsome style, and nothing can be more cosy or desirable. Better than a room at a hotel at $100 a week. That lawyer can be seen night or day.

The decision of some of the western courts by which the ten per cent. town bonds are declared unconstitutional will affect quite a large number of people in this city. Those bonds have been largely sold in the eastern market and were mostly bought by those careful, prudent men who are afraid to invest in business in their own locality. Experience has shown that as a rule with but very few exceptions, the wisest and safest investments are those which are made at home. If Newport capitalists, large and small, would employ their money in legitimate enterprises in our own city, better average returns would be secured than by sending it away. They would also aid in building up the town and promoting the public welfare. No town furnishes better opportunities for such investments or has superior advantages for judicious outlays.

Our readers will remember the case of James A. Coe the Boston forger whose affairs at one time occupied a large share of public attention. Since he has been in prison he has been employed in the office of the Tucker Manufacturing Company to do the writing of the firm, and was about his work until three o'clock Thursday when it was discovered that he had taken muriatic acid and chrome green both of which articles are used in the bronze shop, for the purpose of killing himself. He was removed at once to the hospital and prompt remedies were applied by Mr. Lounsberry, the hospital officer. Every attention was shown the unfortunate man by the physicians, but he died at five o'clock next morning. An autopsy will be made today by the prison physician, Dr. Latimer. His suffering throughout the night was intense beyond description. When questioned in relation to his act he replied that he had nothing to live for. He leaves two children.

CHRISTMAS CAROL.

["Unto you is born a Saviour.—Luke 2: 11.]

Merry, merry Christmas everywhere!
Cheerily it ringeth through the air;
Christmas bells, Christmas trees,
Christmas odors on the breeze,
Merry, merry Christmas everywhere!
Cheerily it ringeth through the air;
Why should we so joyfully
Sing, with grateful mirth?
See! the Sun of Righteousness
Beams upon the earth!

Merry, merry Christmas everywhere!
Cheerily it ringeth through the air;
Christmas bells, Christmas trees,
Christmas odors on the breeze,
Merry, merry Christmas everywhere!
Cheerily it ringeth through the air;
Light for weary wanderers,
Comfort for th' oppressed!
He will guide his trusting ones
Into perfect rest.

Merry, merry Christmas everywhere!
Cheerily it ringeth through the air;
Christmas bells, Christmas trees,
Christmas odors on the breeze;
Merry, merry Christmas everywhere!
Cheerily it ringeth through the air;
Deeds of faith and charity
These our off'rings be,
Leading every soul to sing,
Christ was born for me!

BOOK NOTICES.

ENDEAVORS AFTER THE CHRISTIAN LIFE. Discourses by James Martineau. Reprinted from the Sixth English Edition. Boston American Unitarian Association.

The book has had a large sale in Europe and will find many readers in America. It is a collection of sermons by the gifted author in which he presents his views of the gospel from the Unitarian standpoint. Though not doctrinal in the sense of being controversial, they nevertheless present clearly but in an unobjectionable form the somewhat peculiar theological opinions of the school to which Mr. Martineau belongs. The sermons are models as to style, free from cant and fully worthy the reputation which they possess.

A. C. Landers received Thursday one case of Japanese cabinets, glove and handkerchief boxes. Without exception they are the cheapest goods ever before offered in this city; and another case just opened last evening of perambulators, walnut desks, fin hooks and hooks and ladders, chime bells, trains, rocking horses for 95 cts. Best goods yet offered.

CERAMIC WARE IN ENGLAND.

WEDGWOOD WARE.—ENORMOUS PRICES.—DESCRIPTION OF SOME FINE PIECES.—TERRA COTTA.

Wedgwood ware is still as great a favorite as ever, a delicate white porcelainous biscuit, called jasper-ware, being the best. The biscuit is capable of receiving the tints of oxides, the same as glass or enamel, and the figures are raised in white relief. Upwards of 1000 moulds were made during the life of the founder, and these are still in use to the present day; in fact, no attempts have been made to improve on what was done by Wedgwood. To enumerate the numerous potteries that have sprung up in England since then is beyond our limits. But the mania, if it may be so called, seems now at its height. The prices demanded are enormous for English ware, and some of the work produced in china or majolica is little inferior to the best work of Urbino or Sèvres. The prismatic lustres of De Morgan, marvellously produced on claret-colored grounds on vases of his own design, are quite wonderful. The designs of Coloman, painted with full artistic regard to the tints of majolica, are of exceptional grace, and display an admirably study of the human figure; but unfortunately Mr. Coleman no longer favors the public with such work, having abandoned it after reaching a high degree of excellence. Mrs. E. Broughton is also entitled to a very high position in the art of decorating majolica and china. Mr. Goode and many amateurs also follow this pursuit at present, often successfully; and there are also schools established for exclusive instruction in ceramic art. Among many establishments for the manufacture of faience ware are the Lambeth potteries, where the designs are described on majolica by the pupils, generally young women, and Minton's extensive works at Stoke-upon-Trent. The latter firm have been able to imitate very successfully a plate from the finest set ever made at Sèvres, manufactured expressly for Louis XVI., and afterward bought by George IV., and now valued at nearly half a million sterling. The dessert service made at Minton's for the duke of Edinburgh is probably the most elegant thing of the sort that has been executed in England. But it is only fair to add that the designs were by Boullemier, who had already established his fame at Sèvres. Solon, lately chief painter of the works at that place, is employed also by them. I saw two vases executed by him at the elegant pottery rooms of the Messrs. Goode, in London, which indicate the high-water mark reached in the decoration of ceramic ware in this century, representing respectively wrestlers and racers, most exquisitely limned in white relievo upon a base of delicate olive green. Four airy sprites, perched on pilasters, ply cymbals and horns. The spectators are also Cupids, who in various attitudes show lively interest in the games, while one entertaining sprite is so absorbed by the grapes he is discussing that he altogether neglects to notice the contest. These figures are composed in a thoroughly classical spirit, while the way in which success is achieved through several very perilous ordeals of fire in the baking process wins great credit for the British artisan. In fact, the extraordinary beauty of Minton turkois china and other faience wares is really dazzling for the perfection of the workmanship displayed, and the idea it gives of the degree of excellence at last reached in England in transforming dull earth and pigments, as by a magician's wand, into objects rivalling the splendor of the opium eater's dreams. Terra cotta has been turned to another admirable use in London by being moulded into elegant receptacles for flowers made to fit into the windows. Many are the houses of the rich and the lowly alike that are thus decorated in an inexpensive way by painted glazed terra cotta boxes planted with a profusion of brilliant flowers.—[S. G. W. Benjamin, in Harper's Magazine.

STEEL RAILS.—The use of steel rails instead of iron for railway tracks, is proving so be much more advantageous, on the score of economy as well as safety, than was claimed for them at the time of the time of their introduction, only a few years ago. In 1867 American manufacturers were making good progress in their production by the Bessemer process, but the demand was very large, and nearly $16,000,000 worth were imported in that year at a cost of $64.40 per ton in gold. In the first half of 1875 the importations had fallen off so that the cost of the entire importation was only $314,282, and the price had declined to $50 per ton. Since September of that year not a pound has been imported, and the probabilities of the future are that American manufacturers can profitably supply the demand at a cheaper rate than the English can do after paying the duty.

The rector will preach in Zion church in the morning. Subject—Christ all in all. Full musical Christmas eve services at 7½. The rector will preach upon the true preparation for Christmas.

There will be morning service as usual at Trinity church. The afternoon services will be omitted. There will be a special Christmas eve service at 7.30 P. M.

Prof. Green of Worcester will supply the pulpit of the Second Baptist Church.

The Rev. W. F. Whitcher will preach a Christmas sermon in the First Methodist Episcopal church in morning at the usual hour of service.

The service at the Unitarian Church will be with special reference to the occasion, including a sermon by Rev. J. C. Kimball, the pastor. The subject will be "The birth of Christ as related to Christianity."

Services on Christmas.

Many of the churches in the city will celebrate Christmas day by special services to be held on Monday. As fully as we can ascertain these the appointments are as follows:

There will be a celebration of the holy communion at the chapel of St. John the Evangelist at 7½ A. M. and morning services and the holy communion at Trinity at 11 A. M.

At Zion Church there will be a musical service, sermon and the administration of the holy communion at 11 o'clock.

At St. Mary's the exercises will be as follows:—First mass at 4 A. M., second mass at 8 A. M., third mass at 10½ A. M., vespers at 7½ P. M. The three altars will be superbly decorated by the new altar society of St. Mary's.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—No lodgers at the station house last night.

—The sleighing is the best that Newporters have enjoyed for many years.

—The streets were almost deserted last night and the shopkeepers looked blue.

—Steamer Eolus made her night trip from Wickford last night in spite of the thick storm, arriving here at about ten o'clock.

—The Old Colony left New York at eight o'clock last night and arrived here at one o'clock today. The Newport did not leave here until two o'clock this morning.

—There will probably be a rifle match Monday, at the range on Third street for a mid-range Ballard rifle. Entrances can be made at Farrow's on Washington square.

—The British brig Esperance which arrived in distress, December 13th left here this morning for New York in tow of a tug which was forwarded by the underwriters.

—The Christmas decorations in Zion Church this year are handsome and appropriate. The music on Christmas eve and Christmas day promises to be also very good. The choir consists of Mrs. Frank Thompson, soprano; Mrs. E. C. Handy, alto; Mr. Pritchard, tenor and Mr. E. C. Handy bass, Mr. John Rogers presiding at the organ.

—The fete held by the Central Baptist Church at the Aquidneck House netted about $330. The sale at the Osborn house in behalf of the United Congregational Church brought in about $100 over and above expenses.

—Last evening a woman fell on Spring street and was hurt so badly that she had to be lifted by two gentlemen who were passing at the time and carried into Franklin's bakery. She fainted before she reached the bakery, and restoratives were administered. It is believed that no bones were broken and she was able to go to her home shortly afterward.

—Mr. Nicholas Mister has painted a fine Christmas piece for Otto Sturm of the Germania hotel which will be on exhibition there during the holidays. It is after the German style and will attract much attention. Quite a large number of prominent citizens have already visited it and all seem pleased with the work.

—We are pleased to learn that the recent entertainment given by the Union Congregational Church resulted very successfully in aiding in the reduction of the church debt. The members of that congregation have one of the most pleasant houses of worship in the city and will soon have it wholly paid for if they continue the same spirit of earnestness in the good work.

—Captain C. Pfoundes, the writer and lecturer on Japan, and the collector of the Japanese art objects exhibited in New York last season, has been in town for a few days and it is possible that he returns here to lecture on Life in Japan, its Art and Literature. Capt. Pfoundes has during a long residence in Japan, mastered perfectly its language, and probably there is no foreigner living who has so extensive an acquaintance with the history and literature of that country. Capt. Pfoundes addressed the Boston Art Club last week, and we hope Newport may have the pleasure of listening to him before the winter is over.

THE DECISION IN THE LIVINGSTON CASE.—Judge Van Vorst of New York has rendered a decision in the case of the Merchant's Bank of Canada vs. William C. Barrett and Degrasse Livingston, one of our summer residents. The action was brought for an order of sale of a certificate of one hundred shares of Adams Express Company stock, given to the bank by Barrett in the early part of 1875 as collateral security for a loan of $9000. The loan, was, of course, not repaid, and Mr. Barrett, as will be remembered, departed for parts unknown some months ago. Livingston, to whom the scrip belonged, claimed that Barrett acted fraudulently in hypothecating the stock, but the judge decided against him.

THE CHILDREN OF THE THAMES-STREET M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL will give an exhibition and concert tomorrow evening for the liquidation of the debt on the chapel. No admission fee will be charged but a collection will be taken. It promises to be a very interesting occasion. We are requested to state by several of the leading members of the church and also by some of the members of the official board that order tomorrow night will be preserved at all hazards and also that there will be one or two policemen present.

The official members of the church wish it distinctly understood that they are in no way responsible for a statement published in some of the papers that the disturbance of last Sunday night was of little consequence and caused by boys who went in near the close of the service. Nothing will be left undone to prevent the recurrence of such a scene as that of last Sunday night.

NEWPORT ARTILLERY.—The visit of the Newport Artillery to Philadelphia has been commemorated by the bestowal of still further honors than those already described. The purpose of J. H. Powel to commemorate the event by an appropriate medal has now been carried out. The medal made under his direction and presented to the company has been received and may be seen at the proper time at the company's headquarters. It is of gold and has a representation of Independence Hall on the face with the following inscription, viz: "Memorial Medal, Newport Artillery, 1741, 1876," while on the back the following is inscribed: "Struck within the International Exhibition, 1876." Accompanying it was a copper medal, struck off July 4th, on the Brazilian press, being sent to Col. Powel by Mr. G. F. Barlow, general superintendent of Memorial medals. The latter gentleman states the gold medal was struck off on Pennsylvania day and certifies accordingly. It is the intention of Col. Powel to have this elegant Memorial medal suspended from the beak of the eagle which surmounts the magnificent state flag which was worked and presented by Miss Powel to the Artillery Company previous to their visit to Philadelphia.

ACCIDENT ON THE OLD COLONY RAILROAD.

A somewhat serious accident occurred on the Old Colony railroad near Coddington Cove last evening, as the train due here at 7.20 was coming in. The train consisted of three flat cars, upon which were two long planks for the steamboat, several box cars, a baggage car and a passenger, in which latter were five or six passengers, and was drawn by the engine "Miles Standish." When near what is known as Chase's one of the couplings of the flat cars became detached causing one of the planks to fall on the track, upsetting one of the flat cars across the track. This threw the other flat car and three box cars off while the remainder of the box cars and the passenger and baggage cars remained on the track and went on. Directly after the accident one of the box cars, containing matches, kerosene and meat, caught fire and with its contents was badly damaged. The passengers, who were in the rear car, including two women, were very much alarmed at the shock, and all got out of the car as quickly as possible. Nobody was hurt. The driver of the engine noticed nothing particular until within sight of Newport, when, upon looking back, he saw only one flat car attached. He immediately returned, and found things as stated.

After studying the situation and doing all that was possible he came to the city bringing the passengers and their effects in safely. A gang of men was immediately sent to the place and the track was soon cleared of the debris. The damage is found to be considerable and it is fortunate that no lives were lost and no harm done to the passengers or employes of the road.

WRECK OF THE OSPREY.

John Waters & Co., returned with the wrecked pilot boat Osprey last night. Capt. Waters reports that the Osprey was loaded with fish, all of which were lost. He found her on her beam ends, with both masts under water. The sea had washed her off the reef and a fishing smack had a line on her to prevent her drifting out to sea. The Young America hauled alongside, a line was swept underneath her and with the aid of two tackles she was righted. This done Capt. McDonald, of the Osprey, started at once for town to secure the assistance of the ferryboat Jamestown to tow his boat into the harbor. While he was gone the revenue cutter Samuel Dexter, Capt. John Carson, hove in sight, and Capt. Waters, seeing the need of getting in before dark on account of the bad weather set the colors on the schooner Young America Union down. She was seen on board the Samuel Dexter which promptly went to the assistance of the wreckers. Then, while the schooner held the sunken vessel up, the cutter towed both into this harbor.

The sails of the Osprey are all washed to pieces, her bottom is out and her mainmast is out of the step. She is also seriously injured in other ways.

Capt. McDonald states that when he went ashore on the reef, the wind was light from the northeast and it was growing so that it was difficult to see the light. He shaped his course from Beaver Tail light to this port, but his compass was out of order which seems to have been the cause of the accident.

Much sympathy is expressed for Capt. McDonald especially in view of the fact that the vessel was not his own.

The Osprey will be taken on the marine railway, and it will cost several thousand dollars to repair the damage. She was not injured.

☞ Landers has just received another crate of six dozen motto frames for 49 cts. each, two for 98cts. He has sold over one hundred dozen of these frames in less than twelve months.

It was quite cold in the car. The passengers were shrinking up into as small a space as possible, and looking straight ahead into nothing with frowning visages. A very little boy was snuggled up in his mother's arms. The train stopped at a station, when he said: "Am I goin' home, mummy?" "Yes, dear." "Papa's home?" "Yes." "Are you going to see papa?" "Yes, dear." The child lifted up his head, and looking eagerly into his mother's face, enthusiastically exclaimed, "When papa sees me he'll say, 'Come here, you peskous lam.'" The smile which illuminated the passengers' faces upon this outburst of childish expectation drove away the frown, and brought them out of themselves for the rest of the journey.—[Danbury News.

☞ Dickens Complete works, 15 vol. clear bold type, elegantly bound, 99 cts. per copy or $12.75 for the complete set at Munsons corner Thames and Cannon streets.

It is all the same to us, for we never even read them, and the office boy doesn't mind an extra pound or two when he empties the waste-basket, but it does seem like throwing away time to send manuscripts to this office that are written on both sides of the leaf.—[Boston Transcript.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A VALUABLE MEDICAL TREATISE.

The edition for 1877 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States and British America, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. This Almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-fifth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, &c., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1877 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburg, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

READ AND LEARN FOR YOURSELF.

Many valuable discoveries and much useful knowledge is kept from the world, because of the immense expense making them known to the people. This is not the case with BOCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. Although but a few years introduced into this country its sale now reaches every town and village in the United States. Its wonderful success in curing consumption, severe coughs, asthma, and all other diseases of the throat and lungs, was first made known by distributing every year, for three years, over 100,000 bottles to the afflicted, free of charge, by druggists. No such a test of merit was ever given before to any other preparation. Could you ask more? Go to your druggist James H. Taylor and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

NOTICE.—In order (so far as is practicable) to secure to our citizens, during the present season, some exemption from the inconvenience and danger of snow-and-ice-covered sidewalks, I hereby call public attention to the importance of strict compliance with the provisions of sections 3 and 4 of the "Ordinance in Relation to Sidewalks."

SECTION 3. The owner or owners, occupant or occupants, or any person having the care of any building or lot of land, fronting on any street, square, or public place within the city, where there is a sidewalk supported by a curb-stone, shall within the first five hours of daylight, after the ceasing to fall of any snow, cause the same to be removed therefrom, and in all streets where there is no curb-stone set, a pathway, at least four feet wide, shall be made for the convenience of passengers; and in default thereof, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than two nor more than five dollars; and for each and every day that the snow shall remain on such sidewalks, each owner or owners, occupant or occupants, or other persons, shall forfeit and pay not less than two dollars nor more than five dollars.

SEC. 4. Whenever the sidewalks or any part thereof, adjoining any building or lot of land on any street shall be encumbered with ice, it shall be the duty of the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, or any person having the care of such building or lot, to cause such sidewalk to be made safe and convenient, by removing the ice therefrom or by covering the same with sand or ashes; and in case such owner or owners or other person shall neglect so to do for the space of four hours during the daytime, he shall forfeit and pay a sum of not less than two nor more than five dollars, and like sums for every day thereafter that the same shall continue encumbered.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1876.

The Peterkins' Christmas Tree.

Pretty early in the autumn the Peterkins began to prepare for their Christmas tree. Everything was done in great privacy, as it was to be a surprise to the neighbors, as well as to the rest of the family. Mr. Peterkin had been up to Mr. Bromwich's wood lot, and, with his consent, selected the tree. Agamemnon went to look at it occasionally after dark, and Solomon John made frequent visits to it, mornings, just after sunrise. Mr. Peterkin drove Elizabeth Eliza and her mother that way, and pointed furtively to it with his whip, but none of them spoke of it aloud to each other. It was suspected that the little boys had been to see it Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. But they came home with their pockets full of chestnuts and said nothing about it.

At length Mr. Peterkin had it cut down and brought secretly into the Larkins' barn. A week or two before Christmas a measurement was made of it, with Elizabeth Eliza's yard measure. To Mr. Peterkin's great dismay, it was discovered that it was too high to stand in the back parlor. This fact was brought out at a secret council of Mr. and Mrs. Peterkin, Elizabeth Eliza, and Agamemnon.

Agamemnon suggested that it might be set up slanting, but Mrs. Peterkin was very sure it would make her dizzy, and the candles would drip.

But a brilliant idea came to Mr. Peterkin. He proposed that the ceiling of the parlor should be raised to make room for the top of the tree.

Elizabeth Eliza thought the space would need to be quite large. It must not be like a small box, or you could not see the tree.

"Yes," said Mr. Peterkin, "I should have the ceiling lifted all across the room; the effect would be finer."

Elizabeth Eliza objected to having the whole ceiling raised, because her room was over the back parlor, and she would have no floor while the alteration was going on, which would be very awkward. Besides, her room was not very high now, and if the floor were raised, perhaps she could not walk in it upright.

Mr. Peterkin explained that he didn't propose altering the whole ceiling, but to lift up a ridge across the room at the back part where the tree was to stand. This would make a hump, to be sure, in Elizabeth Eliza's room; but it would go across the whole room.

Elizabeth Eliza said she would not mind that. It would be like the cuddy thing that comes up on the deck of a ship, that you sit against, only here you would not have the seasickness. She thought she should like it for a rarity. She might use it for a divan.

Mrs. Peterkin thought it would come in the worn place of the carpet, and might be a convenience in making the carpet over.

Agamemnon was afraid there would be trouble in keeping the matter secret, for it would be a long piece of work for a carpenter, but Mr. Peterkin proposed having the carpenter for a day or two, for a number of other jobs.

One of them was to make all the chairs in the house of the same height, for Mrs. Peterkin had nearly broken her spine by sitting down in a chair that she had supposed was her own rocking chair, and it had proved to be two inches lower. The little boys were now large enough to sit in any chairs so a medium was fixed upon to satisfy all the family, and the chairs were made uniformly of the same height.

On consulting the carpenter, however, he insisted that the tree could be cut off at the lower end to suit the height of the parlor, and demurred at so great a change as altering the ceiling. But Mr. Peterkin had set his mind upon the improvement, and Elizabeth Eliza had cut her carpet in preparation for it.

So the folding doors into the back parlor were closed, and for nearly a fortnight before Christmas there was a great litter of fallen plastering, and laths, and chips, and shavings; and Elizabeth Eliza's carpet was taken up, and the furniture had to be changed, and one night she had to sleep at the Bromwich's, for there was a long hole in her floor that might be dangerous.

All this delighted the little boys. They could not understand what was going on. Perhaps they suspected a Christmas tree, but they did not know why a Christmas tree should have so many chips, and were still more astonished at the hump that appeared in Elizabeth Eliza's room. It must be a Christmas present, or else the tree in a box.

Some aunts and uncles, too, arrived a day or two before Christmas, with some small cousins. These cousins occupied the attention of the little boys, and there was a great deal of whispering and mystery, behind the doors, and under the stairs, and in the corners of the entry.

Solomon John was busy, privately, making some candles for the tree. He had been collecting some bayberries, as he understood they made very nice candles, so that it would not be necessary to buy any.

The elders of the family never all went into the back parlor together, and all tried not to see what was going on. Mrs. Peterkin would go in with Solomon John, or Mr. Peterkin with Elizabeth Eliza, or Elizabeth Eliza and Agamemnon and Solomon John. The little boys and the small cousins were never allowed even to look inside the room.

Elizabeth Eliza meanwhile went into town a number of times. She wanted to consult Amanda as to how much ice cream they should need, and whether they could make it at home, as they had cream and ice. She was pretty busy in her own room; the furniture had to be changed, and the carpet altered. The "hump" was higher than she had expected. There was danger of bumping her own head whenever she crossed it. She had to nail some padding on the ceiling for fear of accidents.

The afternoon before Christmas, Elizabeth Eliza, Solomon John and their father collected in the back parlor for a council. The carpenters had done their work, and the tree stood at its full height at the back of the room, the top stretching up into the space arranged for it. All the chips and shavings were cleared away, and it stood on a neat box.

But what were they to put upon the tree? Solomon John had brought in his supply of candles, but they proved to be very "stringy" and very few of them. It was strange how many bayberries it took to make a few candles! The little boys had helped him, and he had gathered as much as a bushel of bayberries. He had put them in water, and skimmed off the wax, according to the directions, but there was so little wax!

Solomon John had given the little boys some of the bits sawed off from the legs of chairs. He had suggested they should cover them with gilt paper, to answer for gilt apples, without telling them what they were for.

These apples, a little blunt at the end, and the candles, were all they had for the tree.

After all her trips into town, Elizabeth Eliza had forgotten to bring anything for it.

"I thought of candies and sugar plums," she said, "but I concluded if we made caramels ourselves we should not need them. But, then, we have not made caramels. The fact is, that day my head was full of my carpet. I had bumped it pretty badly, too."

Mr. Peterkin wished he had taken, instead of a fir tree, an apple tree he had seen in October, full of red fruit.

"But the leaves would have fallen off by this time," said Elizabeth Eliza.

"And the apples, too," said Solomon John.

"It is odd I should have forgotten, that day I went in on purpose to get the things," said Elizabeth Eliza, musingly. "But I went from shop to shop, and didn't know exactly what to get. I saw a great many gilt things for Christmas trees, but I knew the little boys were making the gilt apples; there were plenty of candles in the shops, but I knew Solomon John was making the candles."

Mr. Peterkin thought it was quite natural.

Solomon John wondered if it were too late for them to go into town now.

Elizabeth Eliza could not go in the next morning, for there was to be a grand Christmas dinner, and Mr. Peterkin could not be spared, and Solomon John was sure he and Agamemnon would not know what to buy. Besides, they would want to try the candles tonight.

Mr. Peterkin asked if the presents everybody had been preparing would not answer? But Elizabeth Eliza knew they would be too heavy.

A gloom came over the room. There was only a flickering gloom from one of Solomon John's candles that he had lighted by way of trial.

Solomon John again proposed going into town. He lighted a match to examine the newspaper about the trains. There were plenty of trains coming out at that hour, but none were going in except a very late one. That would not leave time to do anything and come back.

"We could go in, Elizabeth Eliza and I," said Solomon John, "but we should not have time to buy anything."

Agamemnon was summoned in. Mrs. Peterkin was entertaining the uncles and aunts in the front parlor. Agamemnon wished there was time to study up something about electric lights. If they could only have a calcium light! Solomon John's candle sputtered and went out.

At this moment there was a loud knocking at the front door. The little boys, and the small cousins, and the uncles and aunts, and Mrs. Peterkin, hastened to see what was the matter.

The uncles and aunts thought somebody's house must be on fire. The door was opened, and there was a man, white with flakes, for it was beginning to snow, and he was pulling in a large box.

Mrs. Peterkin supposed it contained some of Elizabeth Eliza's purchases, so she ordered it to be pushed into the back parlor, and hastily called back her guests and the little boys into the other room. The little boys and the small cousins were sure they had seen Santa Claus himself.

Mr. Peterkin lighted the lamp. The box was addressed to Elizabeth Eliza. It was from the lady from Philadelphia! She had gathered a hint from Elizabeth Eliza's letter that there was to be a Christmas tree, and had filled the box with all that would be needed.

It was opened directly. There was every kind of gilt hanging thing, from gilt peapods to butterflies on springs. There were shining flags and lanterns, and bird cages, and nests with birds sitting on them, baskets of fruit, gilt apples and bunches of grapes, and, at the bottom of the whole, a large box of candles and a box of Philadelphia bonbons!

Elizabeth Eliza and Solomon John could scarcely keep from screaming. The little boys and the small cousins knocked on the folding doors to ask what was the matter.

Hastily Mr. Peterkim and the rest took out the things and hung them on the trees; and put on the candles.

When all was done, it looked so well that Mr. Peterkin exclaimed:

"Let us light the candles now, and send to invite all the neighbors tonight, and have the tree on Christmas eve.

And so it was that the Peterkins had their Christmas tree the day before, and on Christmas night could go and visit their neighbors.—[St. Nicholas for December.

For sale cheap, as I want to reduce stock.

I HAVE ON HAND and want to sell the following vehicles:

1 extra nice new Two Seated Sleigh made at Albany, lined with crimson plush, with both pole and shafts, just the sleigh to make a Christmas present, and be remembered at every snow storm. 2 second hand Two Seated Sleighs, with pole only. 1 Single Sleigh, second hand. 1 second hand Coupe Carryall in good order and just painted, good serviceable storm carriage and cheap. 1 Brownell Carryall. 1 C Spring Top Phaeton Buggy. 1 Brewster Top Buggy. 2 Phaeton Top Buggy. 1 Open Buggy. 1 Two Seated Open Wagon. 4 Express Wagons. 1 nice Dog Cart with reversible seat, pole and shafts, just the carriage to drive 4-in-hand to. 1 very nice new Box Top Buggy. 1 very nice new Basket Top Phaeton, will sell a great deal lower now than in the Spring—makes a good close buggy, or a nice summer carriage. 3 second hand Beach Wagons, cheap. 1 second hand Landau, cheap. 3 Barouches in good order and newly painted. 1 Victoria with pole and shafts, cheap if sold now. 1 Covered Wagon, will carry 8 people easy. 1 new Express Wagon, cheap as we are giving up selling express wagons. 1 new Road Wagon, just the thing for business or pleasure. 1 Sargent Top Phaeton Buggy, been used but little. 1 Phaeton Top Buggy, one year's use and that with care. 1 second hand Light Dog Cart with shafts. 1 second hand Drag with seat behind, just the thing for 6 horse team, newly painted and in good order, and several other carriages all of which I shall be glad to sell for cash or paper that will be paid at maturity.

I would say that through the kindness of my friends, I have disposed of about 100 different vehicles the past few years having sold carriages to go to Providence, R. I., Stonington, Ct., Little Rock, Arkansas, Middletown, Portsmouth, Tiverton, Fall River, New Hampshire and various other places, all of which have proved as represented. To those having any House Painting, Graining or any other work, that they want done and are willing to pay a fair price to have the same done in a good and substantial manner, I shall be glad to give estimates, and will warrant all work done by me to be in every respect as represented. I return my thanks for the generous patronage which has been bestowed in the past and asked a continuance in the future. To my very numerous friends who have neglected to settle their bills for work done long ago,—if they will now respond by attending to them at once they will confer a great favor, as money is now very useful.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S
SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for

"Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup,"

Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St., Boston.

AFTER AN EXTENSIVE PRACTICE of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

TO THE LOVERS of STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS.

THE ATTENTION of the public is invited to the following views from negative by J. A. WILLIAMS, which is believed to be the best and largest collection of the gems of Newport scenery ever offered.

The negatives are all carefully taken with the best materials and instruments and aim to present not merely patches of landscapes from points chosen at random as is the case with many others, but, views which shall combine within themselves all the best elements of a picture in the artistic sense.

We would call particular attention to our new cabinet size views taken the present season, 1876, which exhibit with all the fidelity of the stereoscope.

Parties who may wish to make presents to their friends abroad, or to carry home mementos of Newport, cannot make a more acceptable choice than by selecting from the many beautiful views of Newport and surroundings.

Interiors and exteriors of houses taken to order, parties horses, &c.
